

PROMOTING A POSITIVE EMPLOYMENT CULTURE (PPEC)

Have your say and help shape the future of employment support at SLaM.

We invite you to take part in the Training Needs Analysis survey to help us understand staff training needs.

About the Project

Promoting a Positive Employment Culture is a £300,000 initiative funded by Maudsley Charity. The project aims to strengthen referral pathways into employment for service users with severe mental illness and build a culture that supports employment across the Trust.

It is delivered by South London and Maudsley NHS Foundation Trust and supported by Individual Placement and Support Team Leads, Borough Directors and Clinical Leads across all four boroughs.

About the Survey

The Training Needs Analysis survey is part of Phase 1 of the PPEC project. It focuses on identifying the training needs of clinical and non clinical staff across the four Trust boroughs.

Your responses will inform the design of a new virtual reality training programme aimed at helping staff develop the skills and attitudes needed to improve employment support for service users.

Goals

We aim to improve employment opportunities for people with severe mental illness and psychosis by:

- Raising awareness of Individual Placement and Support
- Strengthening referrals to employment services
- Embedding a positive employment culture across services

Who can help us make a difference?

- Staff from Crisis, Inpatient and Community teams
- Individual Placement and Support services across the London Boroughs of Croydon, Lambeth, Lewisham and Southwark
- Borough Directors, Deputy Directors, Clinical Service Leads, IPS Leads, and General Managers

If you work in any of these areas, we would value your participation.
